

1. How can completing the square help write a quadratic equation in vertex form?

Answers may vary. Sample: the vertex form of a quadratic equation is $y = a(x - h)^2 + k$. By completing the [1] square using the x^2 term and the x -term, you can get the expression $(x - h)^2$.
